GIRL DETECTIVE CAPTURES HER MAN

When Lola Lane, playing the featured feminine role in "The Girl From Havana," described the New York stage to become a member of the Fox Movietone organization, she brought to this branch of talking pictures, assets and a versatility that few of the present day featured players may rightfully claim.

She brought the singing and dancing experience that she had gained in musical comedy, a pretty face, a perfect figure, rare dramatic ability—in fact all the essentials.

Her singing voice was heard in the "Fox Movietone Palaces of 1929" singing Big City Blues and is also heard in "The Girl From Havana," which will reach the screen of the Fox-California theater today.

As a girl detective in the latter production, based on a story by John Stone and Edwin Burke and directed by Benjamin Stoloff, her dramatic qualities are given a severe test for she has to mask her real mission of their chasing behind the role of a girl member of traveling chorus.

All of which calls for versatility plus and she easily makes the grade. The denouement, wherein she "gets her man," has a real surprise twist.

Once more she teams with Paul Page, as they did in "Speak Easy" and other members of the cast include Natalie Moorhead, Kenneth Thompson, Warren Hymer and Adelle Windsor.

ZEE ZEE STAR IN ANNULMENT PLEA

MARTINEZ, Dec. 27.—Mrs. Catherine Elaine Moses, better known by her stage name, Nana Workova, today filed suit for annulment of her marriage to George Chapman Moses.

According to the complaint, the marriage took place in Santa Ana on Mar. 17, 1926, while she was only 17 years old. The plaintiff, the former Miss Carrie Elsworth of Richmond, states she did not have parental consent for the marriage. The couple separated on Aug. 15 of the same year, having one son, Billy.

Tragedy has consistently dogged the footsteps of the actress since she first appeared in the stage farce, "Easy For Zee Zee," which ran a year at the Green Street theater in San Francisco.

Jerry Ferri her sweetheart, was shot in a gang feud. Her leading man, Robert Chapman, was killed in a fall from a sixth-story window of a San Francisco apartment house and Frank Gruppion, whom she declared she was to marry, was arrested on statutory charges.

Recently her father, Elmer Elsworth, 71, Terrence avenue, Richmond, died at his home.

The marriage of which the blonde actress asks annulment is the one she vigorously denied when she was preparing to wed Gruppion.

Miss Workova met and married Moses, while she was engaged as a dancer in Hollywood.

It's Young Nowheres

DICK BARTHELMESS, who is coming to the Fox-California theater tomorrow in "Young Nowheres."

MARION NIXON PLAYS LEAD FOR DICK

If ever there is a palm awarded for the screen's sweetest lovers it is to one that Richard Barthelmess and Marion Nixon will be the recipients.

For the second time these two players are appearing together. The first time was in "Out of the Ruins," and now comes "Young Nowheres," the newest Barthelmess starring vehicle produced by First National-Visphone, which comes to the Fox-California theater tomorrow.

"Young Nowheres" gives these two players a truly appealing story that is as simple and human as life. The story is set in modern New York and concerns the romance of a young elevator boy and a chambermaid. Their struggle to find for themselves a place in the sun, their difficulties, the manner in which their dreams and hopes are misinterpreted—these form the ideas upon which a perfectly delightful love story has been woven.

Frank Lloyd directed "Young Nowheres," his third Barthelmess production, the others being "Weary River" and "Drags," both of which set box-office records throughout the country. The story was adapted by Bradley King from the short magazine narrative by I. A. R. Wylie, and important supporting roles are played by Bert Roach and Anders Randolf. It is a hundred per cent dialogue with incidental music and songs.

TAXPAYERS GROUP MEETS

A meeting of the Contra Costa county Taxpayers' association was held in the Hotel Carquinez yesterday, with E. W. Vieth of Crockett presiding. E. B. Ball, F. M. Downer, and P. S. Newsum, were other directors attending.

E. G. Natch, Bentwood high school principal, was elected auditor to succeed D. D. Watson, who resigned because of other duties.

That the association's program to keep down taxes was receiving much backing, was reported by J. B. McFarland, secretary, who made a report on the activities of the organization.

The city government is still maintained. No taxes have been levied since 1927. There is $100 in the city treasury, but there are no bills to pay. There are no salaries officers. Sidewalks and streets do not need repairs.

Kenneth has no crime problem. It insists, for there is no crime. Neither are there any police officers. There is no talk of incorporating. That would be too much trouble.

As a result the prisoners were taken back to the old hall and looked up while a search for the keys was made. Investigation revealed that the city treasurer had placed them in a safe deposit vault and he was in Seattle on business.

HOQUIAM, Wash.—A jail without keys—that was the situation that confronted the local police department recently. All prisoners were transferred from the old jail to the new one and placed in cells. But there were no keys to lock them in.

SANTANDER, Spain—Suffering from a violent toothache, Vincent Thomas Morales, a laborer of Astoria, got his revolver and shot the tooth off. Although he wounded his jaw, Morales said he felt better as the ache had disappeared.

EL PASO, Tex.—A bold, bad man, with a weakness for spanking women was arrested in Juarez, recently, was fined $5 and treated to a dose of his own medicine. The paddle was wielded by a burly policeman.

State Boasts Smallest City

SACRAMENTO—(UP)—Measured by population, Kennett is the smallest incorporated city in California.

The city government is still maintained. No taxes have been levied since 1927. There is $100 in the city treasury, but there are no bills to pay. There are no salaries officers. Sidewalks and streets do not need repairs.

Liver, Gall Bladder and Stomach Trouble Relieved

2946 Morgan Ave. Oakland, Cal. Nov. 19, 1929.
THE FONG WAN HERB CO.

Dear Mr. Fong: I am writing this letter to express my gratitude for the splendid results and benefits I have received from the use of the Chinese Herbs prepared by you.

I had a complication of Liver, Gall Bladder, and Stomach trouble with Successful sharp stabbing pains in the lower right side of my Abdomen. The region of the Liver was exceedingly sore and tender, so much so that even loose clothing became irritating and uncomfortable. My Stomach was also very sore to the touch and felt as if there were a lump the size of an egg in it. After meals, food which was very sour and burned the throat was returned to the mouth.

This condition steadily became worse over a period of a year. During this time, I was treated by two doctors without any appreciable results. Both decided that an operation was necessary. By good fortune, I came into contact with a man whom you had treated successfully for an Ulcerated Stomach, and he strongly urged me to take your treatment. This I did.

Results were noticeable the very first week, and now, after six weeks, I am entirely free from the terrible stabbing pains and the soreness over my Liver. My digestion is good. The old feeling of lassitude has completely disappeared, and I feel much brighter and more energetic than I have for years.

I am most happy to strongly recommend the herbs of the Fong Wan Herb Co. as prepared by you. Wishing you unbounded success and again thanking you for what you have done for me, I am Very cordially yours,

UPON RECEIPT OF POSTAGE WE WILL MAIL YOU A BOOK ON HERBS (one within the first zone of more distant zones.) Write

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING TO a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said, "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking Nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when Nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

A BIG JOB IS RIGHT!

"IS EVERYBODY HAPPY?"
By ELEANORE CAREY
Copyright 1929 Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.
This novel is based on the Warner Bros. & Vitaphone production starring Ted Lewis

SYNOPSIS
Ted Molnar is forced to play first as a violinist in a Hungarian Cafe, having been unable to find a job as violinist in 1922 and New York. His father disowns Ted when he finds him playing the jazz he despises. When his wife leaves him with two little boys, Ted's home. The public is captivated by Ted's individual style. Gus Wilson and her employer Mr. Abrams hire Ted to organize a band act at his dances. When his wife brings a dancer Lena Schmidt, his Budapest sweetheart who had received him so coldly in New York, Lena tries to reawaken his love, and finally, when he now loves sincerely is jealous Lena quits the act and Gail goes on in her place, but refuses to listen to Ted's explanation.

INSTALLMENT XVII
"Yes, it does, my son," she said understandingly, "she'll come back. You need some rest now, let's go home."
"I can't just now, Mother—I've got to find Gail tonight and try to explain this whole mess to her."
Ted hurriedly took his mother home, leaving her at the door and with her loving wishes for his success in his unhappy errand he bid him good night, with the instruction to return as early as he could. He arrived at Gail's apartment and hurried into the colored attendant at the switchboard.
"Will you tell Miss Wilson that Mr. Todd is downstairs?" he asked "Yussuh!" And the boy buzzed in the cord and rang — "There's a gentleman down here named Mr. Todd, what wants to see you," he said.
Ted noticed the peculiar expression on the colored boy's face as he turned to him and said:
"Miss Wilson says to tell you she ain't in."
Ted hesitated. What should he do? He simply could not go on living until he had seen Gail, and explained. Suddenly a great weariness overwhelmed him. He felt weak and dreadfully tired. He became obsessed with the desire to go home—to unburden his heart and tell his mother. She would understand, and she would tell her hand gently on his and tell him to mind—that eventually everything would turn out just as it should. And feeling very much as he used to when as a small child he bumped his head, or cut his finger, or got into a scrap with the boys next door, so that his anxiety and his teeth were loosened, feeling just as he had in those days — he called a taxi and went home to his mother.

For the mother and son Christmas was approaching much too rapidly—a Christmas each anticipated with dread, and would likely to have postponed. The spirit of the Great Day hovered over the city which slowed up not one whit, but instead its mad rush the big city seemed bent on hurrying its advent.

New York, where dwells over stuffed riches and starving human filth, began its preparation for the celebration of the birthday of Jesus.

What a harvest time for the big and little shops! Extra help was needed to meet the rush to the stores where rich and poor alike spent freely of their savings for commemorative gifts for loved ones. A mother with two or three small children and, perhaps, a babe in her arms, fought her way very bravely through the seething mass of shoppers. Her goal was the toy department, there to get none other than the great Host of Christmas Day—old St. Nick himself standing in the midst of toys, toys, as far as the eye could stretch. There were dolls from every land wearing the costumes representing their different countries. Baby dolls with knitted jackets and hoods and long flowing lace and ribbon trimmed dresses—some holding a bottle in their hands, others with a pacifier in their mouths. Their faces old and wrinkled and quite pink-looking for all the world as Baby Brother and Sister looked when the stork brought them a few weeks ago. Even to the "lumpy" head and funny uncertain eyes!

Games, electric trains, tool sets, building materials, doll houses and furniture, books and dishes—doll stoves, some that would cook electrically, and the pots and pans to go with them. Here stood busy business men with their small sons, watching the electric trains or the electric engines run, with their many attachments and "extra parts," enjoying the fun as much as the child with them and asking as many questions! Just grown-up sons they were, these fathers. And mothers likewise gazing at the beautiful lay-out for the baby doll, even down to the tiny hand-knitted mittens!

Ted and his mother were making a tour of the different stores. Their own hearts weighed down by sadness they could not help but think of those thousands of others, whose Christmas could be made bright by even a single gift. And they thought of the only gift that could turn their sadness into pure happiness this particular Christmas day.

"Since father has gone, and now that Gail refuses to see me, we are not only doing the poor children and their parents a kindness, by doing some actual work for them and with them, but we are helping ourselves, too," Ted said to his mother. She answered him with one of her sweet smiles and began eagerly to look about, realizing the tremendous task she had taken upon herself to perform.

For they had finally understood that—that only by making someone else happy could real happiness come to them. Everything else is unstable, transitory—even, apparently, love itself. Only giving—giving happiness! They had both been forced to realize how miserable Christmas can be with the woe at the door, waiting to come in. And their thoughts were of those in whose misery, so-called "homes" the woe had battered down the door and eaten, everything to be found even to part of their hearts!

Mother and son had planned Christmas parties to be given a few days before Christmas for the poor children of a certain section in whom Mrs. Molnar had become interested through the charitable society of the church which she attended. The children of this section were coming to the party in their beautiful home, and for an afternoon, at least, their lives were to be brightened with the real Christmas spirit.

"You know, Ted," said the boy's mother, "giving is really never giving unless it hurts, just a tiny bit. For a very wealthy man, a multi-millionaire for instance, to give to some poor family a happy Christmas in presents and food, means nothing at all. He would never even know he had spent the money! But when there is a sacrifice involved—then one is truly giving."

Mrs. Molnar bought dolls, all kinds of dolls, for the girls who would soon be in her home, and then a book and another simplest toy. In her enthusiasm she almost forgot the heavy hand sorrow had laid upon her own heart, and Ted, too, thoroughly enjoyed himself as he found himself discussing with the salesmen the comparative merits of toy engines, trains, aeroplanes, and many other mechanical toys. They were instructive—and Ted marvelled to see some of the intricate constructions that could be made out of the steel devices which fitted exactly into others of the same kind.

The day of the first party came—and all morning Mrs. Molnar arranged the warm sweaters, capmittens, and stockings in neat little piles according to size, beneath the huge Christmas tree in the corner of the living room. The tree was covered with red and blue and yellow lights and from its bright green needles hung shining balls of different colors—and icicles and snow capped its branches with glistening flakes. The toys and games and dolls were also distributed beneath it, and it vibrantly breathed the Yule-tide spirit.

Under the supervision of one of the welfare workers—a very business-like but kindly young woman—the crowd of youngsters rushed in—eager to be at what was probably the first party they had ever attended. Disregarding etiquette the boys pushed past the girls and were the first to enter the room. They obeyed, however, when they were told they must not touch the tree or anything near it. Then the girls followed—the last one entering on crutches, slowly, as if she had waited for the avalanche of eager children to pass.

Mrs. Molnar and her son looked at each other—as the troop of fifty children rushed past them. Pale, stunned, impoverished children. Old faces and heads on young bodies—and some of their young bodies and their only clothes sewed securely, so that waking or sleeping the same garment covered them. Their faces were white—no color to lips or cheeks, and not too clean.

SHRINE TEAMS READY FOR CONTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Both all-star east and west teams are ready for the annual football game to be played here at Kezar stadium on New Year's day for the benefit of the Shrine's hospital for crippled children.

Slight injuries have affected players of both teams but by the day of the game the coaches anticipate these players will be ready for the great contest. Tom Dowler of Colgate, one of the greatest half-backs in the east and Bill Calderwood, full-back of Northwestern of Chicago, suffered injuries in scrimmage practice with the Stanford team, these two men being important cogs of the eastern machine. The west, however, also saw two of its great players injured and there is still doubt about their ability to play. Tom Churchill, the big Oklahoma end and Henry Lomb, the University of California half-back, are temporarily on the shelf.

With these exceptions the line and back fields are in perfect condition and football fans can anticipate seeing a game really worth while.

The game takes on the aspect of a college affair with the color and stunts injected into the event by the uniformed drill teams and bands of both teams. Temple of San Francisco and Aahmes temple of Oakland, the former having an organized rooting section for the west while Aahmes supports the eastern team. Besides these units there will be 500 DeMolay boys on both sides of the field in uniforms and they will put on a number of specially worked out stunts similar in nature to collegiate stunts.

Those who cannot attend the game will be able to tune in on the Columbia Broadcasting system which is sending the game over a National circuit of 63 stations, this being the largest hookup that has ever broadcast a football game. The key station in this city is KPRC with Ernie Smith of the local station and Jim Hunning of New York working with Smith. They are conceded to be the two best football broadcast experts in the country.

The preparations for the New Year's day celebration are under the direction of A. A. Alstrom.

Charley Root Leads Hurlers In National

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—UP—Charley Root, star Chicago Cubs hurler, led the National league hurlers in games won and lost, and Bill Walker, New York Giants hurler, topped the circuit in earned runs, official figures released today disclosed.

Root won 19 games and lost six for a percentage of .760. Walker pitched 29 games, 13 of which were completed, and allowed an average of only 3.08 runs earned per game. This is a new record.

Guy Bush of Chicago took part in most games with 50. Claude Willoughby of Philadelphia, allowed most runs, 156. Charley LaCasse of the Cincinnati Reds, pitched in 23 complete games. He was the only hurler to have taken part in as many as 20 games.

Robert McGraw of the Phillies finished most games, 21. Bill Clark of Brooklyn had a lot of records. He pitched in 27½ innings, lost 19 decisions, faced 1189 batters and allowed 295 base hits. All were season's leaders.

Perce Malone of Chicago was the big winner with 22 games won and 10 lost. He had five shutouts, the most of the season, and most strikeouts, 166.

There was only one no-hit game in 1929. It was pitched by Carl Hubbell of New York. He held Pittsburgh to no hits, May 8.

Dr. Charles W. Kennedy, chairman of the board of Athletic Control at the university, said that coaches Princeton plays Yale and Columbia in baseball games.

The games will be part of the eastern intercollegiate baseball league. The players will devise their own strategy without the assistance of the coaches.

RISKO LOSES IN HARD FOUGHT BOUT

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—UP—Tuffy Griffith of Sioux City, Iowa fulfilled expectations by defeating Johnny Risko of Cleveland in a hard fought ten round bout in Madison Square Garden.

Griffith, who had been a favorite, was in a light mood and took a right cross on the jaw as he landed a similar blow to Mastro's jaw. Taylor's rush was so fast that both fighters went through the ropes and sprawled outside the ring.

When Mastro hit the floor he was under Taylor and an expression of extreme agony appeared over his face.

It looked like a double knockout, both men being two thirds out of the ring flat on the floor.

But Mastro began to shake Taylor off him. It took Earl at least five seconds to get out from under Taylor. Meanwhile the count was going on. Mastro was up and into the ring at the count of seven.

The crowd in pandemonium and the official did not seem to know what to do.

Taylor lay on the floor for at least five minutes after the fight. Taylor was paralyzed from the hips down but had complete control of his mind.

While lying on the floor in the ring he said: "There's something wrong with my back. I know everything that's going on, but I can't get up."

Finally Bud was lifted to his feet and walked uncertainly from the ring.

Willie Hoppe Out

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—UP—Willie Hoppe has withdrawn from the field which will compete for the world three-cushion billiards championship in a contest starting here next Friday. Hoppe explained that business engagements would make his participation impossible. He has twice been runner-up for the crown now worn by Johnny Layton.

CARDINALS TO MEET ARMY TODAY

For his alma mater and Coach "Biff" Jones is coaching his last game for West Point.

Furthermore Army has full strength while Stanford will start without one of its best players, Walter Heinecke, selected by many as the leading center on the Pacific coast this year. Perry Taylor, who has been on the bench most of the season, has been substituted for Heinecke who has a bad cold.

Stanford won last year by stopping Cagle. The Cards are depending upon Herb Fleishacker, big quarterback to halt the efficient Cagle this year. Therefore, Cagle's mate, Johnny Murrell, might become the outstanding player of the contest.

Against this pair of individual satellites Stanford will throw a backfield that has a unified attack timed to the fraction of a second. In some reverses every man in the backfield handles the ball on a single play. And the Cards have Charles Smalling at fullback as the most dependable man on the coast to gain two yards when exactly that distance is needed.

Army has pointed at the Cards. A member of its staff has come to this coast by airplane to scout Stanford in important games this season. He has reported the plays that carried Stanford to a tie for first place of the Pacific Coast conference.

The question seems to be whether Cagle can do what no other player has ever done this season—score on Stanford while carrying the ball. All points rolled up against the Cards have been by forward passes, most of them from beyond the 20 yard line.

The Lineup
The probable starting lineup is:

Humber LER Tandy
Miller C Taylor

JAPAN-CHINA BREAK SEEN

TOKIO, Dec. 27.—UP—Japan was understood today to be planning virtual severance of diplomatic relations with China in event the Nanking government persists in refusing to accept Yukichi Obata as Japanese minister.

Japan's first move, it was said, will be to request the recall of the Chinese minister to Japan and thereafter refuse a successor. Japanese consuls will continue to carry on the routine work in connection with any problems that might arise.

It was officially announced that the Japanese had asked China to reconsider her decision, since the Chinese minister at Tokio it was claimed, already had informed Foreign Minister Shidehara that Obata would be acceptable.

Woman Waits 50 Years For Return Of Man; Married

PARIS, Mo., Dec. 27.—UP—A modern Penelope was Miss Willie Haden and there was some thing of Cyrano De Bergerac in Robert Sprinkle.

Just 50 years ago Miss Haden promised Robert, her childhood companion, that she would become his wife. Sprinkle told her he must first "go west and make a fortune." He would return soon.

The years passed and Sprinkle did not return but like Cyrano, his romance remained fresh to him through the years. Miss Haden bent over her millinery work and remained faithful.

Today the two were on their way to Florida for a honeymoon. They were married Christmas day at the age of 70. Robert now is a prosperous Montana rancher, but Willie Haden—she is Mrs. Robert Sprinkle. She pledged herself to that in 1879.

Every high honor given presidents and visiting sovereigns was accorded Ortiz Rubio today when he visited the tomb of George Washington at Mt. Vernon, Va., and the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National cemetery.

Robbery Scoffed By W. P. Officers

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—UP—Officers of the Western Pacific railroad said here tonight that reports of a robbery of one of their freight trains near Oroville the day before Christmas had been exaggerated.

"Two tramps robbed another tramp in one of the freight cars," Richard C. Beltz, secretary to the vice president said. "The victim reported he had lost $100 and a diamond ring and members of the train crew thought it was not important enough to report to main offices here."

Whalen Arrives At Chicago To 'Study Traffic'

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—UP—Police Commissioner Grover C. Whalen of New York arrived in Chicago today, but not here to "see how traffic moved."

Semi-official announcements in New York previously had said Whalen hurried here to establish identity of the Chicago gunman believed to be the killer of Frank Marlow and Frankie Uale, New York gang leaders.

Delegations of police officials and hordes of reporters and photographers went to the station consequently to meet Whalen and learn at last the name of the suspect, rumored to be almost any one of a dozen Chicago gangland characters.

Whalen had left the train at a suburban station however, and had taken a taxicab to his Michigan boulevard hotel. Considerable sleuth work on the part of newspapermen revealed him in his room there several hours later, lounging at ease in a blue ensemble from socks to necktie.

"Who killed Marlow and Uale?" he was asked.

"I was surprised at the alacrity with which traffic moved," Whalen replied. "Your boulevard traffic light systems are unusually efficient."

CHIEFS TO BE HIT BY DRY CHANGES

clear up present congestion in courts, including increased staffs for district attorney's offices, and codification of prohibition laws, of which there are now 24, while the treasury Thursday recommended changes in administration of the Mexican and Canadian borders to check smuggling.

Weeded Out
The projects will be more or less gradual in their adoption, since they naturally require study and then legislation, but President Hoover has emphasized from time to time that improvement cannot be achieved over night and has likewise emphasized that improvement cannot come through "dramatics" and "sensations."

Meanwhile the process of weeding out inefficient administrative officers and district attorneys has begun, and can be expected to bring changes here and there, gradually. The president agrees with Senator Borah of Idaho, now the chief administration prohibition critic, that personnel must be improved and a shake-up will be made.

Retirement Asked
While various measures to improve enforcement have been considered by the administration, there is no doubt that the recent flare-up of Congressional dry forces the plan to have the law enforcement commission report soon and also brought publication of one of these measures Thursday by the president.

Mellon's retirement was demanded again today by Senator Norris, Rep., Neb., who has opposed the treasury head for years.

President Hoover will accede to no such demands, and those who have challenged the secretary, formerly a large holder in distilling properties, on the ground of his prohibition enforcement policies will lose him as a target when enforcement is transferred to the justice department.
